Eng. 10 Added To Curriculum

This year a new class, English 10, has been added to the present 11 and 12. There are three sections of 10 which meet five days a week. The class starts in the fundamentals of mechanics; however, it is planned to have achieved the same aims as the students in English 11, from which most of the study in mechanics of writing, spelling, etc. has been removed.

The English 12 classes remain much the same as in the past, including the study of literature. Many of the students are in the first semester of school. These students will, upon completion of English 12, register for English 85, an honors course involving critical and creative writing and study of literature.

Placement for these classes is based upon pre-registration tests taken by the incoming freshmen.

Filing Date for Homecoming Queen.

The deadline for filing for Homecoming Queen is 12:00 noon on Friday, October fifth. This is two weeks prior to Homecoming.

2 Offices Head Election Slate

The election of class officers shows itself to be overshadowed slightly by the open vice presidency seat being sought by Bob Cobb, sponsored by M-Club, and Ted Jamison, sponsored by ISO, and the open junior class Senate seat being vied for by Larry Schulenberg and Dale Sporleder.

A quick sketch will perhaps help acquaint the public with the candidates.

Bob Cobb: a senior from Stanberry, majoring in English and minoring in Spanish, working for a B.S. in secondary education, Dean's list; vice president of Blue Key; student senate and advisory cabinet; student-faculty disciplinary committee; executive committeeman in the Missouri Student Government Association; sports editor of the "Missourian" for two years; vice-president of Press Club; member of Book Club; and Phi Sigma Epsilon chaplain.

Ted Jamison a second semester junior majoring in social science and minoring in history, working for a B.S. in secondary education; graduated from Wentworth Military Academy in 1951; Korean Veteran; married and the father of a boy, Chris; member of the senate advisory cabinet; president of the Young Democrats; advertising manager of the "Missourian"; and secretary of ISO.

Larry Schulenberg: editor in-chief of the "Missourian"; a junior from Mound City, majoring in journalism; a former student from the University of Nebraska; member of Press Club and recipient of the journalism Gold Key; and special assistant to the president of ISO.

Dale Sporleder: a junior pre-law student majoring in political science and minoring in history; member of Blue Key; 3.2 grade average; member of the Religious Emphasis Committee; member of student affairs committee; social science club; vice chairman of the Union Board; and Inter-Fraternity Council.

Those running for class officers are Seniors: Harold Gentry and Linda Kay Jones, president; Linda Potter and Suzanne Walker, vice-president; Betty Jo Bruns and Mary Ellen Disburg, secretary; and Ron Guthery and Bernice Northup, treasurer.

Juniors: Larry Hagan and

Janice Leavell Heads Tower

Janice Leavell is Tower editor for the 1962-63 school year.

Staff members include: Ellen Grube, Assistant Editor; Susan McConkey, Staff Assistant; Mary Ellen Disburg, Art Editor; and Jack Gray, Sports Editor. Mr. Howard Ringold is Tower sponsor.

The Tower staff has announced it is important that organizations turn in their requests for space in the 1962-63 Tower before October 10. Requests should be turned in to Janice Leavell, 617 West Second Street or Ellen Grube.

Denny Rhodes, president; Betty Johnson and Janet Tussy, vice president; Helen Meyers and Kathy Swoboda, secretary; and Dick Mowry and Larry Stephens, treasurer.

Sophomores: Bob Dicky and John Siehl, president; Barb Chick and Bob Johnson, vice-president; Glenda Knott and Debbie Price, secretary; and Bob Cornelison and Debra Breit, treasurer.

Freshmen: Glen Acksel and Arnie Doctor, president; Jack Bennett and Max Goolsby, vice-president; Linda Chastain and Carolyn Wiltshire, secretary; and Kathy Johnson and Homer Edwin Smith, treasurer.

Activity Cards must be presented in order to vote in the general class election. Voting will be held in the faculty lounge in Colden hall today from 8 to 4. Each person will receive two ballots.

"Lord of the Flies"

Lord of the Flies, a novel by William Golding, will be reviewed by Bob Johnson at the Book Club meeting next Monday, October 8, at 7 p.m. in the Gold Room.

THE COLLEGE OATH

"We will never bring disgrace to this, our College, by any act of cowardice or dishonesty. We will fight for the ideals and sacred things of the College. We will revere and obey the College laws and do our best to incite a like respect and reverence in others. We will transmit this College to those who come after us, greater, better, and more beautiful than it was transmitted to us."

As the Stroller retired to her natural habitat after another trying day of lecture, lab, gab, etc., he decided he would throw aside his collegiate cares to be a great humanitarian and philosopher for a matter of hours. The omniscient sage resolved to take a seat in the den and solve the problems of the world.

This presented many challenges, the greatest one being the problem of finding a seat in this jumble of a room without stepping on another student or a broken coke glass. The fear of stepping into a pile of trash also concerned the not-so-brave do-gooder. After defeating the first challenge by a magnificent maneuver, the Stroller settled down to the less challenging matter of world problems.

After a short time the sagacious one decided that world problems were too great for even a great thinker like herself.

He also decided that JFK had his whole family to counsel him in matters of state and therefore had no problem. After a few minutes the well-meaning philosopher had decided that the area where she could do the most good would be the problems of students. He had heard that students had problems concerning money, social life, grades, and many other things which are perennial and common to college students.

In the most brilliant and logical thought of the day, the Stroller decided that student problems were up to the individual student and not even a great worldly philosopher like herself could be of assistance to them. Students must "create" the answers to their problems by analyzing them in their own minds and then act together to eliminate the cause or effect of the problem.

After the barrage of thought the Stroller collapsed momentarily, but aroused instantly when she heard the cry, "a fourth for bridge." With a contented mind she settled down to pasteboard pushing and trumped his partners ace.

Letter to The Editor

Recently I have found myself in a most exasperating position—being a senior at Northwest Missouri State College. On this campus a senior has no priority but must fight for every ounce of the seniority that by all rights he has supposedly earned.

We must await our turn to register according to the alphabet and a throw of the dice. Imagine the financial loss! At other larger more efficient campuses, such as the University of Kansas, seniors do have priority followed by juniors, sophomores, and freshmen, respectively, and once it was even done here. This is how it should be. What other college student has more at stake than a senior?

For this reason it would be good for the senior to be able to plan in order not "to come up short". It would be wonderful if the senior statement was issued when a person became a senior. However, no one would complain if he received it before his final semester. We are well aware that the administration is busy. Isn't everyone? But this is an obligation, by their own making, owed to the student at his request.

Frosh Program Revamped

In 1962 Innovation has replaced Orientation.

Gone are the green beanies. Gone are the days of endless entrance exams. Gone also are the small classes of orientation taught by individual faculty members.

Here to replace these methods of the past is the mature approach. Here are Thursday night meetings of total college curriculum orientation with compulsory attendance. Here are the still invisible identity tags. Remaining from past years is the quite effective "Effective Reading Program", now drably styled as Ed 1.

Here is a program which, while it may rob the college of a long standing tradition, goes far beyond the old kangaroo courts in integrating the freshmen into the college community.

The main purpose of the new method is to inform the incoming freshmen of the social and intellectual life of the college, the traditions and standards of behavior, and the various areas of study offered. Dean of Students Charles Koerble with the aid of other administrators and faculty members is ably making the transition from the small school approach to one better suited for a larger college.

The purpose of Freshman Orientation remains the same but the methods are changing. The problem of students dropping out before graduating or remaining a home-centered suitcase student will still be present but the new method hopes to eliminate some of the difficulty. Dr. Koerble's hopes are high. "We hope to make Freshman Orientation as meaningful and interesting as we can so that the class of '66 can really beat the statistics relative to withdrawals".

300 Loaves And What Have You Got?

Who has been eating three hundred loaves of bread each day? It could only be all the students who eat in the cafeteria.

According to Mrs. M. T. Sheldon, dietician, most of this bread is consumed at dinner during the noon hours. The cafeteria serves approximately 650 students at breakfast, 1,250 students at dinner and 1,200 students at supper.

This large number of students requires a large amount of food. Some quantities of various foods are: 600 pounds of potatoes per evening meal, 350 pounds ground beef for meat loaf, 225 dozen buns for wieners per meal, 250 pounds wieners, 150 pounds sausage patties for breakfast, 7 cases canned vegetables, 4 to 5 thirty-dozen cases of eggs fried for breakfast, 4 cases of 24 heads of lettuce and fruit for salad, 46 five-gallon cans of milk, 2 to 4 ten-gallon cans of bulk milk, and 1,300 to 1,400 minute steaks fried per evening meal.

Approximately 20 cooks prepare the meals. Seventy students are employed to serve in the serving lines, to clear tables, to check meal tickets, to work in the dishwashing room, and to clean on Saturday.

Cards Shut-Out Chalk Talk . . . Bob Cobb

The Northwest Missouri State College Bearcats lost their home opener and third game of the season to the revenge minded William Jewell Cardinals by a 28-0 score Saturday night.

The game, hindered by light rain, started as a defensive battle as neither team could move the ball in the early stages. The first quarter was scoreless, but Jewell took a 7-0 lead early in the second period and held on till half-time.

Maryville threatened to score several times in the final half, but the Bearcats could not punch the pigskin across the Cardinals goal line. Jewell tallied seven points in the third period, and they closed the scoring with 14 in the final stanza.

The Bearcats will battle Nebraska Wesleyan Saturday night at 8 p.m. on the home gridiron in a non-conference game.

Lucas Heads Tower Choir

Ken Lucas was chosen president of the Tower Choir, recently. Other officers elected were Berry Martin, vice president; Kathleen Kinnick, secretary-treasurer; and Donna Theis, librarian.

The choir, under the direction of Mr. Gilbert Whitney, has a 60 voice group of 25 boys and 35 girls.

Although the Bearcats were mired under a seven game losing streak, Coach Earl Baker refused to throw in the towel.

The Bearcat mentor refused to push the panic button after his charges had dropped initial two road games by scores of 7-6 and 21-0.

With a little bit of luck, the cats might well have been undefeated. Coach Baker related that the greatest downfall of the Bearcats has been their inability to execute basic fundamentals such as blocking and tackling on the key situation.

Baker expressed his opinion that this year's team possesses as much or more potential than the group which he coached to a 5-4 season in 1960.

When the cats really start to click as a unit, there will once again be joy in Maryville.

Daniels Leads Offensive

Thus far, Don Daniels has been the lone offensive threat for MSC by averaging 4.0 yards per carry and completing 4 of 9 passes thrown.

Kirkville's loss of small college All-American, Jack Ball, could tighten the MIAA race considerably. Ball had completed 8 of 11 passes for a phenomenal percentage of 72.73. Despite this deficit the Bulldogs still look like the team to beat from our vantage point at least.

Every year, we hear "let's increase school spirit." School spirit goes hand in hand with a winning team. In fact, the two are inseparable; SO COME ON BEARCATS!

Sonny Liston's speedy knock-out of Floyd Patterson brings to this conclusion: Liston is one tremendous fighter or the greatest hoax in the history of boxing has occurred.

We'd like to think it the former. Liston should be a fighting champ, just the stimulant needed to revitalize a dying phase of Sports Americana.
